Czech Liberals Call For Protest Strike

Parley Derailed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secret plans by President Johnson for summit talks with Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin, possibly in Moscow, have been derailed by the Kremlin crack-down on Czechoslovakia.

Until the invasion of Czechoslovakia, Johnson had expected to hold a return talk with Kosygin overseas about missile curbs and other East-West issues.

Johnson long had hoped to visit the Soviet Union before leaving office. And more recently, he felt that agreed-upon talks between the two superpowers about limiting their nuclear missile and antimissile rivalry furthered the potential of such a trip.

The President's desire for a repeat summit to last year's New Jersey's meeting was underscored by the fact that—even after Soviet forces rolled into Prague—administration spokesmen pointedly refused to rule out a Johnson visit to Russia this fall.

White House Press Secretary George Christian said that despite the Czech crisis Johnson still hewed to his oft-stated pledge to travel anywhere anytime if that would further the cause of peace.

Another presidential spokesman had no comment on Johnson's trip plans but referred to Christian's statement.

Having gone over the Czech developments and their impact on the international scene with the National Security Council and the cabinet, Johnson invited congressional leaders of both parties for a White House conference today.

Enlisted to brief the legislators were U.S. ambassador to Moscow Llewellyn Thompson, Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford and Richard Helms, head of the Central Intelligence Agency.

It was understood that the Soviets had finally agreed to a specific time and place to begin the missile curb talks which Johnson had announced July 1 would begin in the nearest future.

Prague Commies Rejecting Puppet

PRAGUE (AP) — Defiant Czechoslovaks staged a one-hour general strike today to protest the Soviet-led invasion intended to crush their nation's liberalization, and President Ludvik Svoboda went to Moscow for talks with Soviet leaders.

Prague streets were deserted as sirens and bells at noon signaled the start of the strike, called by liberal Czechoslovak Communists. Numerous arrests by occupation forces were reported, with journalists and cultural leaders the chief targets.

The clandestine free Radio Prague began broadcasting license numbers and makes of cars being used by agents making the arrests, presumably the pro-Soviet faction of the Czechoslovak police.

Young people printed leaflets carrying the license numbers and urging Czechoslovaks to hinder the movement of these cars. One report said one of the cars was destroyed.

Prague Calm

No shooting was heard during the morning and Prague was generally calm. Soviet tanks occupied all bridges but automobiles were permitted to use at least one.

Svoboda's departure was indicated by the lowering of the presidential flag at Hradcany Castle, his official residence.

Svoboda and the Czechoslovak Communist party, which had tried to bring some freedom to the nation, both vowed not to recognize any Soviet puppet government.

Efforts to form such a government apparently were the reason for a visit by Soviet Ambassador Ivan Chervchenko to Svoboda's quarters in Prague Castle Thursday.

The president has declared he would recognize only the legal government headed by Premier Oldrich Cernik, who is in Soviet hands.

Goes To Moscow

He announced that negotiations with Soviet officials in Prague had been fruitless and he was going to Moscow.

"Have trust in me. I expect to be back tonight," he said.

Meeting secretly to avoid Soviet controls, the Communist party called on Czechoslovaks to walk off the job at noon today unless the occupation troops pull out and release Czechoslovak liberal leaders.

A proliferation radio, operating from a hidden location, said 1,219 of the 1,540 party congress delegates attended the meeting but most Slovak delegates were detained on their way to the congress.

The delegates re-elected Alexander Dubcek—the man who ended 20 years of Stalinist-type rule in Czechoslovakia last January—as their leader.

Top Leaders Captive

They named Venek Silhan, an economist, to head the party while Dubcek and other top leaders are Soviet captives.

Broadcasts heard abroad—apparently from amateur operators within Czechoslovakia—reported Dubcek was dead. There was no confirmation. The last report on the liberal leader said he was taken away by Soviet forces Wednesday. Other unconfirmed reports said he had been taken to the Soviet Union.

Sporadic shooting continued in Prague into the early evening Thursday. No precise count was available, but the death toll from the occupation apparently rose to 26. The occupation forces started their curfew two hours earlier Thursday night, making it from 10 p.m. to 5 a.m.

20,000 Demonstrate

About 20,000 Prague residents demonstrated in Prague's main square—shouting, "Russian murderers go home!"—the Soviet command warned that further outbursts would bring martial law. Several east Slovak cities, including Kosice and Prescov, were reported already under martial law.

The Czechoslovak secret police, inactive since Dubcek took over, was reported arresting prominent writers and journalists. Soviet collaborators were reported active in police ranks.

Witnesses said hundreds of political prisoners arrived at Pankrac Prison. The proliferation radio said Czechoslovak prison guards at Ruzyně Prison refused to accept prisoners brought in by the Russians.

Radios Jammed

The clandestine radio stations, which have provoked the Soviets into angry criticism, became hard to hear and some were jammed, monitors in Vienna said.

At the Communist party congress, one man told in a radio interview of taking evasive action to bring delegates into Prague, which is surrounded by Soviet checkpoints.

The site of the meeting was not announced but it was presumed to be a factory in Prague. Unconfirmed reports said units of the peoples militia guarded the congress.

Regular Czechoslovak army troops, facing Soviet tank and airborne troops, guarded Svoboda in Prague Castle.

The congress delegates had been chosen for a meeting next month at which Dubcek had planned to purge the party Central Committee of hard-line foes of his reform program.

Slovaks Collaborate

At their emergency meeting, which lasted until early today, they demanded release of captive liberal leaders, re-establishment of civil liberties, withdrawal of occupation forces, nonrecognition of any puppet government, aid from other Communist parties and the opportunity to elect progressives to party office.

Russ Block U.N. Invasion Rebuke

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — A Soviet veto today killed an eight-nation resolution that asked the U.N. Security Council to condemn the Soviet-bloc occupation of Czechoslovakia and to call for the troops to withdraw.

The vote was 10-2 with 3 abstentions. The Soviet Union and Hungary voted no. Algeria, India and Pakistan abstained.

Soviet Ambassador Jacob A. Malik vetoed the proposal at 3:28 a.m. after he and Hungarian, Bulgarian and Polish delegates had filibustered past midnight to delay the voting.

U.S. Ambassador George W. Ball said the Soviet Union had just cast its 10th veto. But he

Ike's Survival Unpredictable

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army doctors reported today there is "encouraging" evidence in former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's status but that his overall condition "must still be considered critical and the outlook guarded."

The term "guarded" means that the doctors still consider unpredictable the matter of the general's survival from this, his 7th heart attack since 1955.

The report of the doctors of the Walter Reed Army Hospital was issued as Eisenhower was within hours of completing the first week since he was stricken with his latest attack at 1:25 p.m. EDT last Friday.

A formal medical bulletin issued shortly before 11 a.m. EDT was as follows:

"Gen. Eisenhower spent a comfortable and restful night. He has gradually shown less evidence of heart irritability—irregular and rapid beats—and while this in itself is encouraging, the general's over-all conditions must still be considered critical and the outlook guarded. The general remains alert and cheerful and still shows an abundance of the courage that has been his hallmark."

Press Plans Top Coverage Of Convention

The Escanaba Daily Press will bring its readers comprehensive coverage of the Democratic National Convention in Chicago starting on Monday.

In addition to our Associated Press wire news and picture coverage, we will have the resources of Newspaper Enterprise Association to amplify coverage.

There will be a daily report starting Monday by Richard Milliman for Panax Newspapers on what the Michigan delegation is doing and on the convention trends that specially affect Michigan's Democratic politics.

WHILE FORMER Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien sends smoke billowing from a cigarette, Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine, tells a news conference in Chicago that he is endorsing Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey for the Democratic presidential nomination. O'Brien is from Massachusetts. (AP Wirephoto)

Kennedy Forces Plan Fight On Peace Plank

CHICAGO (AP)—The shadow of Kennedy's past etched itself sharply across the Democratic presidential nomination convention today as committees wrangled over preliminary platform, rules and delegate seating decisions.

The subsidiary bearers of the once powerful mantles of the assassinated President John F. Kennedy and Sen. Robert F. Kennedy served blunt notice they will carry to the floor of next week's convention, if necessary, a fight for the "strongest possible peace plank" on Vietnam.

Theodore Sorensen, confidante of both of the slain brothers, told reporters Thursday:

"The Democratic platform must have a strong peace plank, or regardless of the nominee, we can forget about the (November) election."

"So we will present to the convention, as a majority plank if that can be, or a minority plank, if that must be, the strongest peace plank that we can draw."

Despite his lack of status as a delegate, Sorensen's voice had an authenticity in expressing the most recent Kennedy viewpoint, substantiated earlier by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., in a call for an unconditional halt in the bombing of North Vietnam.

South Vietnam Lashed By 50 Rocket Attacks

SAIGON (AP) — Enemy forces lashed South Vietnam today with more than 50 rocket and mortar attacks in the same countrywide pattern that heralded last February's general offensive.

The assaults included follow-up infantry charges in a few cases and were concentrated in the northern war zone, where the last big offensive also erupted, and in the central highlands. A third of South Vietnam's 45 provincial capitals came under attack.

Heavy ground fighting continued in spots. A Special Forces camp along the Cambodian border, outnumbered by perhaps five-to-one, was holding out against an estimated 500 North Vietnamese troops surrounding it.

American Marines were heavily engaged trying to root a strong force of North Vietnamese regulars from a village two miles below Da Nang, South Vietnam's second largest city, and also trying to retake a compound at the Marble Mountain camp that the enemy penetrated.

The widespread attacks marked the sixth straight day of savage fighting and followed on the heels of similar assaults around Saigon, near the Cambodian border and south in the Mekong Delta. The enemy slammed hundreds of rounds of rockets and mortars into cities, towns and installations from the Mekong Delta to the demilitarized zone.

A U.S. spokesman said the attacks exceeded those that triggered a second enemy offensive last May but that the latest assaults "are not as intense."

President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam announced that he will make a nationwide television appearance tonight to discuss the stepped-up enemy attacks that began last Sunday and shattered a two-month lull in the war.

Colombians Acclaim Paul 'Truly A Pope Of Hope!'

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — Pope Paul VI was hailed as the Pope of hope by thousands of Colombians who watched with emotion as the pontiff kissed the soil when first setting foot in this part of the world.

Many wept Thursday as they witnessed this act of humility by the Pope and proclaimed it the crowning moment of his historic visit.

The pontiff journeys by helicopter today to a meeting with thousands of Latin-American peasants in a huge meadow, called San Jose Field, outside the village of Mosquera, 18 miles from Bogota.

His address is expected to be of far-reaching significance. The Catholic hierarchy is already on record stressing that the Church will take a more active role in the effort to help Latin America's impoverished millions.

The 70-year-old pontiff's welcome Thursday was described as the most tumultuous of his six trips abroad. Cries of "Viva El Papa!" resounded wherever he went in this Colombian capital. Some exclaimed: "He's truly a Pope of hope!"

The long day of papal activities, witnessed by hundreds of thousands of Colombian and foreign pilgrims, ended at 8 p.m.

with the ordination of 161 priests and 41 deacons.

In a way, this ceremony underlined the Church's efforts to bolster its thinning ranks in Latin America. A source close to the Pope's party said many of the new priests were under the required minimum age of 24 years and had not fully completed their studies.

The deacons were the first to receive the lowest form of sacred orders which allow them to administer many sacraments but not say Mass or hear confessions. Four of them are married. Their ordination allows priests to devote more time to other functions. The decline in religious vocations has adversely affected the Church's work in Latin America, Church sources said.

The ordination ceremony was part of the program of the 39th International Eucharistic Congress. It was held on the vast congress grounds in windy, chilly weather. Some in the crowd carried signs that said "Holy Father pray for Czechoslovakia."

Marquette Gets Lab For Soils

The Upper Peninsula will have its own soil testing center when Michigan State University opens a new laboratory in Marquette early in October. The laboratory, jointly funded by the MSU Agricultural Experiment Station and the Cooperative Extension Service, will be operated by the MSU Soil

Science Department.

It will serve the Upper Peninsula for soil testing and fertilizer recommendations, says Dr. Donald R. Christenson, soil specialist headquartered in Marquette. Dr. Christenson, who is in charge of the laboratory, says Terry Allis of Sault Ste. Marie has been employed as laboratory technician.

Several different tests will be available when the laboratory becomes operational. These include independent tests of phosphorus, potassium, lime, calcium, magnesium, manganese, copper or zinc, and various combinations of these tests to give a comprehensive test for major and micronutrients.

Samples will be submitted through U.P. county extension offices or may be taken directly to the laboratory which is to be located at 1225 West Washington Street in Marquette. Cost for the service will vary according to the number of tests per sample. According to Christenson results and recommendations will be quickly calculated and printed by a computer. They will then be returned to land owners through their local county extension offices.

Contract Talks Delay Opening

Supt. Jerome Albright announced today that the Powers-Spalding Public School will not open on Monday, Aug. 26, as previously scheduled.

The Board of Education and the Powers - Spalding Professional Organization, which is the teachers bargaining unit, have not reached an agreement on a new master contract for the 1968-69 school year. Until such time that a new master contract is approved by both the teachers and the Board, school will remain closed. Albright stated that the teachers have another meeting of their group scheduled for today and that another meeting between the board and teachers would possibly be held the early part of next week.

The exact starting date of school will be announced when it becomes known.

It was also announced that St. Francis Xavier Catholic School in Spalding would not start on Monday, Aug. 26.

Seating Decision Blow To Maddox

CHICAGO (AP)—Democratic National Convention officials forced a settlement today on two warring Georgia delegations in a racial-political fight that may freeze Gov. Lester Maddox, a presidential candidate, out of the convention.

Gov. Richard J. Hughes of New Jersey, Credentials Committee chairman, said Georgia's convention votes will be split between the rival delegations and that it would be "a miracle" if Maddox remains a delegate.

Hughes' committee, which also required that the divided delegation pledge itself to the party's presidential nominee, holds veto power over the final make-up of the Georgia slate.

Floor Fight Possible
But the dispute may boil over into a bitter convention floor fight which party officials fear could result in a riot.

Mr. and Mrs. Verner Hallinen of Rock and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kemp of Palmer have returned home after visiting the Robert MacArt family in Salt Lake City, Utah. Mrs. MacArt is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hallinen.

After spending two and a half weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Norden, Mrs. Otto Turunen and family have returned to Waukegan, Ill. She was accompanied to Waukegan by Mrs. John Turunen who visited there.

Hughes said the decision was made on evidence that Negroes were not able to participate fully in Georgia party affairs, and that the state's national convention delegates were named by only two men, Maddox and state party chairman James Gray.

"The system is wrong," Hughes said of Georgia's manner of selecting delegates.

"We are not going to continue to have a party that systematically excludes Negroes, Mexican-Americans or other minority groups."

Maddox Vs. Bond
But he said there was also evidence that the regular Maddox delegation was at least partly representative of Democrats in the state.

The struggle pitted Maddox, who once offered white customers ax handles to keep Negroes from his restaurant, against Negro legislator Julian Bond, who won his seat in the Georgia House only after a Supreme Court ruling.

Hughes declined to say whether he thought Bond would be named on the new Georgia delegation, but he said it was composed of 21 members from each of the contesting slates plus the state's present committeeman and committeewoman.

Both sides had adamantly insisted on an all-or-nothing victory and Hughes said "There might be two dissenting reports" which would bring the battle to the floor when the national convention opens next week.

"We are pleased," said Bond.

Wallace Says He Will Carry State

DETROIT (AP)—George C. Wallace confidently predicted Thursday his election as president on the American Independent party ticket and said Michigan would be among states he will carry.

The forecast climaxed a busy day in Michigan in which he addressed the national convention of some 8,000 Veterans of Foreign Wars, held a news conference and submitted to two taped television interviews.

The former Alabama governor also predicted he is certain to win a spot on ballots of 49 states and said his claim to a place in Ohio is being tested in court.

Denies Racism
The candidate denied in his news conference and in the television taping that he is a racist and offered to get out of the race if Alabama's state government does not employ more Negro professionals than does Michigan.

He said Alabama employs more than 8,000 Negroes in professional categories.

Before the VFW and elsewhere Wallace called for "a return to law and order" and decried "crime in our streets."

"It is a sad day when you can't advocate law and order without being called a racist," he said.

Shoot Bombers
"Anybody caught throwing a firebomb should be shot on the spot," he said. And in answer to another question said he thought looters should be shot if caught in the act.

He interjected, however, that he referred only to adult looters—not children—but that after shooting of the adults started, the children would go home.

In handling rioters he said "the best way is to be tough" and that as president he would "give moral support to the police and stiffen the backbone of some governors and mayors."

Wallace told interviewers that if president he would maintain law and order in Washington by stationing troops "every 30 feet, or 20 feet or even 10 feet, if necessary."

The former governor fended off a question about what effect he thought the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia might have on the presidential campaigns of Sens. Eugene J. McCarthy, D - Minn., and George McGovern, D-S.D., by saying: "I don't think they'll do too well at the (Democratic party) convention."

Reds Break Promises
Before the VFW he charged that decisions of the Supreme Court in recent years "have made it almost impossible to convict a criminal" and asserted later in an interview that "three-fourths of the congressmen feel the same way I do."

"And they'll speak out," he added, "after I'm president, especially those from districts which I carry."

Of the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia, he said the Russians "haven't kept a single promise from Yalta, where free elections were pledged in Eastern Europe, on down."

Teachers Reject Salary Increase As Insufficient
ST. IGNACE—At a recent meeting of the Board of Education, teachers of St. Ignace schools reported that they will not accept the Board's offer for salary increase under the new contract.

Another meeting has been scheduled for Monday, Aug. 26, for further negotiations between the Board of Education and the teachers.

School board officials state they cannot pay any more than the increase they have offered because millage is not available for a further increase. The Board feels it has done everything possible to assure opening of school on Sept. 4.

Rain Contributes To Three Mishaps In Delta County
Heavy rainfall in parts of Delta County Thursday contributed to the cause of three traffic accidents, State Police reported.

Two persons were injured, neither seriously, officers said. The accidents all happened between 2:20 and 2:50 p.m.

Doris DeHorn, Thiensville, Wis., was injured when a car driven by her husband, Robert, 56, struck the rear of a car driven by Lazor Potvin, 67, Rapid River, on U.S. 41 about seven tenths of a mile north of County Rd. 432 in Masonville Township. DeHorn was ticketed for failing to stop in the assured clear distance.

David J. Kirk, 35, of Tulsa, Okla., suffered minor injuries when his car was struck in the rear by a car driven by Jack Kirmse, 35, West Bend, Wis. The accident happened at the intersection of U.S. 2 and 41 at Rapid River. Kirmse received a summons for violation of the basic speed law.

Troopers also reported that a car and small camper trailer were damaged in an accident on U.S. 2 in Ensign Township. Donald Berg, 38, Menominee, told officers that the trailer started sliding on wet and bumpy pavement, throwing the car out of control. The trailer overturned and hit the car, troopers said.

Pickets Protest Loaned Workers

FLINT (AP) — Striking line workers of Detroit Edison Co. today picketed Consumers Power Co. at Flint and Mount Clemens to protest the loaning of employees for work on Edison lines.

The strikers also staged protest demonstrations at Consumers offices in Royal Oak and Pontiac.

Some 40 pickets from Local 17 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers in Detroit marched at four gates of the Consumers Power facility in Flint.

A number of operating workers, members of the Utility Workers of America, refused to cross the Local 17 picket line in Flint and Mount Clemens, the company said.

Len Tate, a negotiator for Local 17, said his union was protesting because Consumers loaned 16 supervisory personnel to Edison to help restore power to storm-hit areas of Royal Oak, Ferndale and Berkley. The storm struck last Friday, causing widespread damage and disruption of power facilities.

Some 820 members of Local 17 have been striking Detroit Edison since May 31 to support new contract demands.

Tate asserted his union would continue picketing Consumers facilities until the supervisory personnel stop aiding Edison.

The 16 employees were loaned to Edison on Thursday, a Consumers Power spokesman said. Thousands of homes lost power for varying periods of time—some for more than four days—because of the storm. Edison crews, composed of supervisory personnel and other volunteers, said they were hampered in restoring power because of the absence of the striking linemen.

No Minicar For Chrysler

ATLANTA (AP) — Chrysler Corp.'s two top men, fresh from three days of taking the wraps off the firm's 1969 car line, insisted today the auto firm had no intention of adding a minicar to its line next year.

Board Chairman Lynn A. Townsend and President Virgil A. Boyd said without qualification that Chrysler would not jump into the subcompact car race, regardless of what Ford does in 1970.

Reports have circulated in the industry since last January that Ford planned to bring out a new subcompact — smaller than its present Falcon — in the 1970 model year to meet Volkswagen's accomplishments in the small car field.

Townsend and Boyd in a pair of free-wheeling interviews touched on virtually every subject in the auto business—from prospects for price increases on the '69 models to the effect Japanese-American trade talks may have on auto business.

Minicar, new glamor word in the auto industry vocabulary, was high on the discussion list. "We are here to introduce our 1969 cars, not to talk about future products, but you can say that as far as I am concerned I feel that our ... Valiant car is about as small a car as the U. S. public wants," Townsend said.

Townsend said the recent steel hike, along with the United Auto Workers new contract with the industry, made the possibility of a new price hike on the '69s likely. He said "our vendors' report their prices have gone up six per cent in some cases."

He declined to speculate on the size of a possible price increase—which most observers figured to be in the $100 area — and said "at this moment, do not even know myself what the price tag will be when it is put on the cars in dealer showrooms when they are shown to the public Sept. 18."

Workable Program Okayed:

Housing For Elderly Loan Is Anticipated

Recertification by the Department of Housing and Urban Development of a Workable Program for Escanaba has been approved, providing the basis for an anticipated federal loan of $2.5 million to construct a low-rental apartment building for the elderly of the area.

U. S. Senator Philip A. Hart today advised George St. Louis, chairman of the Delta County Democratic Committee, of the agency approval, and St. Louis informed city officials of the favorable action.

Had the Workable Program for Escanaba not been recertified (the certification had expired in February) the proposed housing program for the low-income elderly of the community would not have been eligible for the federal loan.

Plan 18 Stories

The loan of $2.5 million sought by the Escanaba Housing Authority from the federal agency would be amortized over a period of 40 years from rental incomes. There would be no local governmental cost for the project.

The proposed "tower" apartment building would be located on the east two-thirds of the 500 block of Ludington St., would have about 176 units, and would be approximately 18 stories high.

The Escanaba Board of Appeals, meeting last night, approved an exception to the city's building height restriction so the 18-story apartment structure might be erected. The building would be the highest in the community.

Paid From Rentals

The Housing Commission asked for the exception. John Gammon is chairman of the Housing Commission and other members are William DeHaan, Michael Jensen, Carl Anderson and William Winkler.

Next anticipated development is the approval of the $2.5 million loan to finance the housing project, for which a developer (Blumenfeld & Rokita of Milwaukee) has been obtained by the Housing Commission.

A meeting with Housing Assistance officials in Chicago to work out final details of construction is expected to be held soon.

When the plans have been finally approved there will be annual contribution contract signed between the federal government and the Escanaba Housing Commission, the basis for the financing loan and its repayment from revenues over a period of 40 years. The construction and financial responsibility will be that of the development firm.

Who Is Eligible

Hopefully, construction of the apartment building might begin soon and would be completed within 15 months from the date of the signing of the annual contribution contract, with the building ready for occupancy by the winter of 1969.

Originally the plan had been to construct two tower apartments, but the plans were scaled down to one tower to fit the low-rental housing need indicated by the number of elderly applicants in the area.

To be eligible, persons must be at least 62 years old by the time the building is ready for occupancy, and have earnings of not more than $3,500 a year. Liquid assets of tenants may not exceed $7,500. This does not include furniture or automobile.

Rentals are expected to run less than $50 a month for the apartments that have 430 square feet of floor space. Each unit will have a bedroom, kitchen, living room and dining area. Stoves and refrigerators are supplied.

GRAND HAVEN (AP) — Dan Terpstra, 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Terpstra of Grand Rapids, was reported drowned in the Lake Michigan channel at the state park Thursday when he reportedly fell while walking on the pier. A boy companion reported the mishap.

ONE APARTMENT TOWER of approximately 18 stories is proposed to be erected in the east two-thirds of the 500 block, Ludington St., to provide housing for the low-income elderly in the Escanaba area. The building would contain about 176 housing units.

Friday Trading Up And Active

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market widened its gain in fairly active trading early Friday.

The Dow Jones Industrial Average rose more than 3 points. Gains outnumbered losses by about 150 issues on the New York Stock Exchange.

In a delayed opening, Swift rose 1/4 to 31 1/4 on 17,000 shares. Later it erased the gain and showed a 1-point loss.

Swift has disclosed preliminary merger discussions with Northwest Industries, which was slow in opening.

Du Pont gained 2, Anaconda and Phelps Dodge more than a point each.

Most auto stocks showed slight gains following news of booming car sales but General Motors dropped a fraction. Chrysler made only a small fractional gain although the company forecast 1968 sales would top $7 billion.

The market was continuing an upswing which got underway after the early Thursday selloff on the Czechoslovakian news had been weathered.

The widening declines in the discount rate and moved toward easier credit were cited as encouraging factors.

INA Corp. advanced about 1/2 and Polaroid dropped a point. Fractional gains were posted for Pan American World Airways, Raytheon, Weibull, International Nickel (new), Jones & Laughlin and Alcoa.

Picket Restraint Asked By NLRB

The National Labor Relations Board regional office in Milwaukee was asking the federal district court in a hearing in Marquette today for an order restraining Local 94 of the Sheet Metal Workers Union from picketing the Harnischfeger Corp. truck crane plant in Escanaba.

The local, which represents sheet metal workers throughout the U.P., has withdrawn its pickets at the plant, but two pickets were stationed there for a couple of weeks, protesting the non-hiring of sheet metal workers in the construction program there.

Harnischfeger Corp. complained to the NLRB, charging an unfair labor practice by creating a secondary boycott in a jurisdictional dispute between unions.

The issue was over the assembly of a traveling paint spray booth in the P&H truck crane plant by members of Local 632 of the United Auto Workers, who compose the production workers force at the plant. A company spokesman said that the booth work was a routine maintenance chore; that the unit came "as nuts and bolts" instead of assembled.

Police, Firemen Without Contract

KINGSFORD — Contract negotiations between the City of Kingsford and the police and fire departments appear far from settlement, according to a report made to the Kingsford city council.

"We have met with the police, fire and public works departments," Garland Mainville, a member of the city's bargaining committee, told the council. "The only agreement reached has been with the public works department."

"There was apparently a misunderstanding with the fire department. We thought we were close but now we are miles apart."

Russia Acts In Fear

The flickering flame of freedom was extinguished in Czechoslovakia this week when Russian troops and tanks, augmented by military forces from Poland, East Germany, Bulgaria and Hungary, swiftly invaded and occupied the nation's capital.

Thus, finally, did Moscow rid itself of its embarrassment of the past seven and a half months during which the regime of Czechoslovakian Party Chief Alexander Dubcek followed a liberal course of reform government. Dubcek came to the party helm by dumping the Red Party boss, Antonin Novotny, early this year.

Since then, he has presided over a reform regime which relaxed some of the Stalinist measures that had oppressed the nation. Certain actions critical of the Communist Party were tolerated. A quest for individual freedom began to take shape.

Moscow, which in recent months has shown signs of a willingness to work toward better relations between the East and West, nevertheless was greatly concerned over the independent-minded policies being pursued by Dubcek. The Russian bear looked on as Dubcek gained strong popular support for the democratic reforms instituted under his leadership. Dubcek was the head of a people united behind his reform regime, and this was more than the Soviet Union could abide.

Storm clouds rose along the Czechoslovakian border earlier this summer when Russian military forces began conducting maneuvers there. This was a crude gesture to bring Dubcek and the Czechs to their knees.

When the play failed, Russia planned an unprecedented action: A summit conference in Czechoslovakia between the Soviet Politburo and the Czech leaders, marking the first time in history that the entire hierarchy of the Kremlin had traveled abroad together.

Dubcek refused to abandon the democratic reforms, and the Russians, to almost everyone's surprise, withdrew. Tiny Czechoslovakia had stood up to the gigantic Russian bear and escaped without being devoured.

But the bear had second thoughts — and expressed them in brutal fashion. In a naked display of raw military power, the Soviets and their satellite allies descended on defenseless Czechoslovakia and very effectively accomplished what they were unable to achieve without force.

In contrast to the Hungarian uprising of 12 years ago, the invasion of Czechoslovakia was easy. Thousands of lives were lost in the Hungarian revolt before Russia's might quashed that attempt at freedom, and now Hungarian forces ironically were among those that marched into Czechoslovakia to silence her call for liberty.

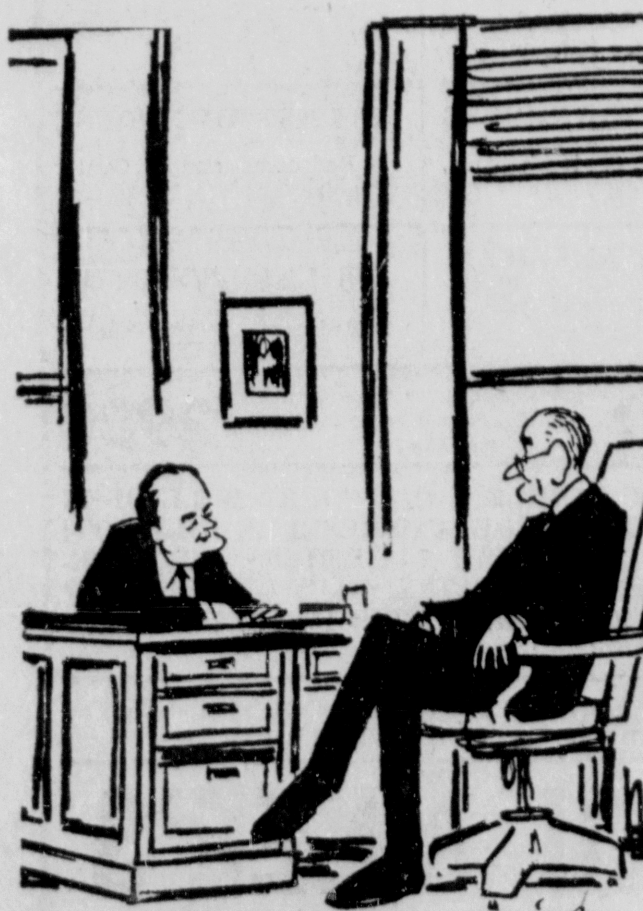

In a ludicrous announcement, Moscow said its military forces had entered Czechoslovakia "to render necessary help to the fraternal Czechoslovak people" at the invitation of "party and government leaders."

The seizure of Czechoslovakia's government is indicative of several things. First, that Russia feels insecure with a reform movement underway among tiny Czechoslovakia's communists. Second, that there is probably a situation within Russia which makes more freedom for the Czechs intolerable to Moscow for fear it will infect the Russians, too. Third, that the Kremlin regards the situation as so serious that it weighs the obvious loss of face which it will suffer in world opinion and in the communist parties of satellite countries and particularly Western Europe and decides that it must act anyway.

The invasion will influence our national election campaign. First Democratic reaction was that it would help Hubert Humphrey as the Democratic nominee by reminding Americans how intransigent the communists are — in Europe, in Vietnam and elsewhere. But then, Richard Nixon has been a most ardent crier of warnings against communism, so this newest European crisis of communism may create a standoff in American political reaction.

BERRY'S WORLD

"How would you like to be my Vice President?"

BOB VOGES, Associated Press outdoor writer, shows a striped bass he caught in ocean waters near Wellfleet, Mass. This is a 20-pounder, only a small one, according to Voges. During the summer, the fish run to 30 pounds or more and in the fall, catches of fish weighing more than 60 pounds are not uncommon. The Michigan Conservation Department is thinking of introducing the stripers in the Great Lakes some time in the future. (AP Wirephoto)

Stripers Provide Fabulous Fishing

By BOB VOGES

WELLFLEET, Mass. (AP) — Fishermen might be tempted to use those now-prized Coho salmon just for bait if striped bass ever are introduced in the Great Lakes.

There is a possibility that the voracious and ferocious ocean fighter may some day be available to Michigan anglers.

"We're keeping close touch with what is being done in the way we're rearing and planting the species," said Brad Durling, salmon expert for the State Conservation Department. "There may be a place for the striper in Michigan waters some day in the future."

Slow Start
Capt. Johnny Shakkis of the charter boat "Quahog" had been recommended to this writer as the local expert on stripers during a recent vacation at Wellfleet, near the tip of New England's Cape Cod.

But during the first few hours of a trial run with Captain John, not even a sand shark was caught.

"Let's go where the big ones are," the captain finally suggested.

The powerful, little 36-footer, equipped with six chairs for the fishermen, two of them using lines attached to outriggers, sped down to a small harbor off nearby Truro.

"There's a school ahead," the skipper's 17-year-old mate and grandson advised. "Everyone reel in, clean off the weeds and get set for a hit."

Heavy Tackle
We were using what seemed like heavy equipment, 30-pound test monel-metal line, a large reel with a drag and trying a red, plastic squid as bait.

There were fish boiling ahead. The boat went through the school of small fish, being harassed from below by predators. The lines were about 150 feet behind the boat in about 15 feet of water.

Then the first one hit my line.

Accustomed to dealing with trout on a thin line, I started to brake the wire line whizzing out with my thumb.

"Get your thumb off—or he'll rip it off," yelled the captain. "Let him run about 50 feet."

Although I did about everything wrong, advice from the captain and young mate helped salvage the fish.

Food For 14

"No slack," they shouted. "Steady pressure. Reel slowly." Now who can tell time during that excitement? Later we figured it was 15 minutes before the fish was close enough to be gaffed.

It was a 20-pounder, enough to feed 14 people after the fish was baked and stuffed.

This novice also hit the second fish and caught and managed to get it aboard with fewer mistakes.

The rule is to play musical chairs when one spot is lucky. So I gave up the lucky chair. But before the afternoon was over, nearly everyone aboard had wrestled in some stripers.

On another trip with Captain John, my 14-year-old nephew brought home a 28-pounder.

On a stormy day, when most boats were not venturing out, those aboard the Quahog caught 33 stripers in an afternoon. The same day, a charter boat out of Rock Harbor, fishing the entire day, brought back 68.

Run In Schools
The largest of these weighed 30 pounds or more. They are called "schoolies" because they run together in schools.

Such successful charter boat fishing spoiled us. So we didn't try any surf casting as earlier planned.

This is doing it the hard way. The fishermen cast into the surf hour after hour and often are rewarded only by a few, and pesky sand sharks.

Irvin Hulther, of South Wellfleet, is called "the bass king" on the Cape. He has won so many striped bass derbies that he finally retired as a competitor.

Nights when the fish are running, he still will be out roaming the sands in a beach buggy and looking for signs indicating a school of bass.

Hulther recommends a small plug used on top of the water for best surf casting success.

Feed On Small Fish
Both he and Captain John think the striped bass would thrive in the Great Lakes. They explained the fish feed extensively on herring-like fish similar to the alewives that were such a nuisance on Lake Michigan beaches a year ago.

The striped bass caught during the summer months are relatively small. In the late fall, catches of bass 60 pounds and more are not uncommon.

The world record by rod and reel is 73 pounds, caught in 1913. In 1958, a 68½ pounder was taken, both of them in Massachusetts waters.

Bass weighing in excess of 100 pounds have been caught in commercial nets.

Fresh Water Spawners
The striped bass, similar to Michigan's imported salmon species, spawn in fresh water.

A land-locked population was established and is thriving in the Santee-Cooper Reservoir in South Carolina.

25 Years Ago

Pvt. John D. Sullivan, son of Mrs. Julia Sullivan, 8th Ave. S., who is in the Quartermaster Corps, has been transferred from Camp Grant, Ill., to Camp Harahan, New Orleans, La.

William Winling, Boatwain's Mate 2-c, in the Seabees, has returned to Camp Peary, Va., following a week's leave during which he visited with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Winling of Rte. 1, Escanaba.

50 Years Ago

Attorney James C. Baker, local attorney and widely known as an orator of force and power, has been selected by the Trades and Labor Council as the speaker at the big Labor Day celebration to be held under the auspices of that body on Sept. 2.

Three Gladstone men, all registrants of the class of June 5, 1918, volunteered for service before the local examining board and will accompany the contingent of Aug. 28 to Camp Custer. The three volunteers are: Julius Van Gysel, Max Joyce and Joseph Burke.

Durling conceded that in a number of instances they have been successfully established in fresh water, notably in reservoirs in the southern United States.

"We thought of trying striped bass," he said, "but the status of the culture of the salmon was far ahead of the striped bass. We went for the salmon because it seemed a sounder gamble—and it paid off."

In the past few years, Durling said, has there been much success in raising stripers from eggs. However, he said striped bass introduced on the West Coast have been induced to feed on small, migrating Chinook salmon.

Eat Anything

"They will eat almost anything that swims," Durling said. "They are a very efficient predator. That's why we had an eye on them in the first place."

"We're watching them for future reference. There is no question that fishermen would love those big bull stripers."

The striped bass probably would be considered first for Lake Erie, Durling said. Except for walleyes, Lake Erie is filled with smaller fish that could furnish a varied diet for the predator bass.

William Wood, in his "New England's Prospect," published in 1635, commented on the stripers:

"The basse is one of the best fishes in the country... The way to catch them is with hook and line."

Another early historian called striped bass: "The boldest, bravest, strongest and most active fish that visit tidal waters and bays along the Atlantic Seaboard."

So perhaps, some day...

Omar Sharif is one of the great actors in the world, but his first love is bridge and he has organized a team called the Omar Sharif Bridge Circus. Omar is a really fine bridge player in his own right. His Circus includes Giorgio Belladonna and Benito Garozzo of the World's Champion Italian Blue Team, Claude Delmouly and Leon Yallouze of Paris, and the maestro himself. The team is currently in the United States playing a series of matches against leading American teams, including the Dallas Orange Team.

Today's hand shows Belladonna in action against the Dutch. His bidding leaves something to be desired in that four hearts could not be beaten. But even the greatest players in the world have to guess sometimes and Giorgio had guessed that his partner would not hold the ace of clubs. In that case a club lead through the king would upset a four-heart contract.

West opened the queen of clubs and East made the automatic play of the 10. Belladonna rose with dummy's ace and finessed the queen of diamonds unsuccessfully.

West thought awhile and made the safe continuation of the jack of clubs. Now Belladonna took his king, ran off five heart tricks and finessed his 10 of diamonds for two diamond tricks and the game.

East's 10 of clubs play was automatic but it was also wrong. He could be sure that Belladonna held the king of clubs. He also could be sure that five heart tricks were going to roll in whenever Belladonna wanted them. Therefore East might have dropped the deuce of clubs and hoped that West would find the switch to a spade.

Of course it is possible to set up lots of hands where the play of the 10 of clubs will be the winner, so East can't really be criticized.

Wish For Children Problem Is Solved

Dear Ann Landers: Recently a woman who was unable to get pregnant wrote to ask if you thought it would be wrong if her husband's brother substituted for him because he had fathered four children in six years and could surely help her out. You told her it would not be right to borrow her brother-in-law for stud purposes and that she should contact some adoption agencies.

I thought you might like to know how a similar case actually turned out. You might revise your advice.

My husband and I wanted a child very badly. We had been married eight years and I could not get pregnant. We were both examined and tested. The tests indicated that we were both O. K. physically. The doctors concluded that since there was no organic reason for my inability to conceive, it must be emotional.

To take our minds off the problem we went to visit my sister in California who was pregnant with her fifth child. Sis and her husband Ed kidded us about not really wanting a family—not realizing we were both sensitive about it. The kidding went too far and my sister accused me of taking the pill secretly. We ended up in a fierce argument.

The next morning Sis came over and apologized. She said she and her husband had talked it over and decided if I really wanted a child Ed would help me out. I accepted their offer.

After a three-week stay we returned to the East. I learned shortly after that I was pregnant. I do not know if Ed is the father or if the child belongs to my husband. Furthermore, I don't care.

Now, four years later, we have three children and are a very happy family. When I saw my sister and Ed last year, not a word was said. The secret is between the three of us and it will remain that way. Sign me—GLAD I DID

Dear Glad: And people keep asking me if I make up letters. Why would I have to make up letters when I get fantastic mail like this?

Dear Ann Landers: Please

don't think I am a crabby woman. I'm a newly married girl with a problem that is driving me nuts.

We have a small but lovely apartment and we adore it. There is a back porch which runs the length of four apartments. We are in the middle. Our dinette windows face the back porch.

The neighbor who lives on the end has strung a laundry line the full length of the porch. She must wash every day because those lines are never without clothes on them. Not only is it embarrassing when we have company but the clothes throw grotesque shadows on our walls and ceiling and it scares me to death when I am alone.

This neighbor has a right to string the line as we were told when we moved in that the porch belonged to all of us. Is this worth talking to the landlord about? I hate to start any trouble.—QUANDARY OVER LAUNDRY

Dear Quandary: Ask the landlord if he will furnish a Venetian blind for the dinette windows. If he says no, buy one yourself. It will be well worth the investment.

What awaits you on the other side of the marriage veil? How can you be sure your marriage will work? Read Ann Landers' booklet "Marriage—What To Expect." Send your request to Ann Landers in care of your newspaper enclosing 50c in coin and a long, stamped and self-addressed envelope.

Garden Club For Area Residents Is Organized

On Aug. 21 a group of interested Delta County residents met for the purpose of organizing a Garden Club in the area. After objectives and purposes of a Garden Club were introduced, it was determined that a garden club could be very beneficial to its members and to the community as well.

"We have a continuing need for furthering horticultural and conservation practices in our communities", stated Carrie Larson of Nelson's Floral Shop in Escanaba. "America is beautiful and we should all strive to keep it that way and the best place to start is in our own homes".

The offices of president and secretary were temporarily filled pending an official election of officers slated for the next meeting. A nominating committee consisting of Marge Saykily, Reynold Gustafson and Josephine Saykily was appointed to select persons interested in filling the five executive posts. Election and installation of these officers will take place at the next meeting scheduled for Oct. 4.

After basic foundations for a club of this nature were established, the meeting was concluded. A coffee social followed.

Membership in the Garden Club is open to the public and all interested persons are invited to attend the next meeting. For more information regarding membership contact Reynold Gustafson, Marge or Josephine Saykily.

Births

KNUDSEN — Dr. and Mrs. William Knudsen of 2700 5th Ave. S. welcomed their first child, a son, at 9:08 p.m. on Aug. 19. The infant weighed 4 pounds and 14 ounces at birth and has been named Eric William. The mother is the former Sandra Tyndale.

GAVLEK — At 2:30 p.m. on Aug. 20, a daughter, Nancy Ann, weighing 7 pounds and 15 ounces was born to Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Gavlek of 1412 10th Ave. S. Mrs. Gavlek was Marlene Johnson.

MATHESON — Mr. and Mrs. Lee Matheson of Columbus, Ohio, are the parents of a son born at 4:05 p.m. on Aug. 22. The infant weighed 6 pounds, 14 ounces at birth and has been named James Bryon. The mother is the former Billie Jean Lewis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lewis of VanBuren, Ark. and paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Matheson of 424 S. 16th St.

Mothers' Attire — Mrs. Bernier chose for her daughter's wedding a light pink voile jacket dress trimmed with lace and pink and white accessories. She was presented a corsage of pink sweetheart roses and mums.

Mrs. LaVigne wore an orange ice cream dress with an orange and beige coat and matching accessories. She pinned a corsage of yellow roses and mums.

The wedding reception was held at St. John's Hall in Garden. After a honeymoon trip through Wisconsin, the newlyweds are now at home at Grissom AFB, Ind.

The bride attended Bay de Noc Community College and Northern Michigan University. Mr. LaVigne enlisted in the U. S. Air Force in 1966 and served a tour of duty Tan Son Nhut AFB, Saigon. He is now stationed at Grissom AFB.

Children's Clothes May Be Fire Hazard — Almost every mother knows that her child's safety is at stake when he crosses a busy thoroughfare or plays near the edge of the water. But how many mothers know that when they buy back-to-school clothes for their children, they might be buying a potential fire hazard?

"Probably very few," says Sara Miles, safety expert at the National Safety Council, "Most people simply don't stop to consider that their clothing can burn," continues Miss Miles, a home economist and consultant. "Women don't realize that their daughter's frilly party dress or their son's floppy pajamas can ignite and burn with surprising speed."

Yet burns from clothing that catches on fire account for 1,500 deaths each year. Furthermore, Council statisticians estimate that 100,000 people suffer disabling injuries because their clothes catch on fire.

Smooth Service — How can a mother be sure that she is buying the safest clothes for her children? Miss Miles says that closely woven fabrics, of a heavy weight and with a smooth surface, are least likely to burn. Wool is a good example of such a fabric. In general, close fitting garments are less likely to catch at fire than loose fitting ones. Particularly dangerous are flowing robes, flared skirts, blousy sleeves, and clothes with ruffles and frills or a napped, textured surface.

It is the parents' responsibility to prevent situations in which a child's clothes could burn. Infants and toddlers must be protected from fire at all times, since they can't look out for themselves. Miss Miles advises that older children be taught about the dangers of fire as soon as they are able to take direction. They should learn to be cautious when they are near common sources of fire such as space heaters, stoves, and burning trash or leaves.

Don't Panic — Parents, and children too, should know what to do in case clothes ever catch on fire. The natural tendency is to panic and run. But Miss Miles points out that the safe thing to do is just the opposite of this. If fire strikes, throw the victim to the ground and slowly roll him over and over. This stifles the flames and prevents them from sweeping upward to the face. If a blanket or rug is handy, roll the victim in that to quench the flames more quickly.

Radio Reports Dubcek Killed

By The Associated Press

Several amateur radio operators in Europe and the United States report receiving ham broadcasts from Czechoslovakia saying that Communist party leader Alexander Dubcek is dead.

There was no immediate official confirmation of the reports received Thursday. The Czechoslovak clandestine radio in Prague last said Dubcek was seized Wednesday and taken to an unknown destination.

A State Department source in Washington said U.S. government listening posts had apparently heard the same ham broadcasts the others reported but had no further details on it.

One of the amateurs who reported the broadcast was Frank Melville, of Elmsford, N.Y., a ham operator for more than 40 years. He said he sent a general call trying to make contact with anyone in Europe.

In response he received several replies, one of which ended with the words, "... was killed two hours ago." He said he asked for a repeat and received, "Dubcek was killed two hours ago."

Melville said he then asked the sender, who gave his call letters as OKIAY, "What do you want me to do with it?" and the reply was, "Please relay." He said the entire exchange was in Morse code.

State GOP Expected To Nominate O'Hara

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Some 1,567 Republicans converged on Grand Rapids today for their party's fall State Convention. A speech by GOP vice presidential candidate Spiro T. Agnew was likely to be the highlight.

There will be contests, however, for the nomination for seats on the governing boards of Michigan State and Wayne State Universities.

Agnew, governor of Maryland, and Michigan Gov. George Romney planned appearances at the convention Saturday morning, marking the vice presidential contender's first visit to Michigan.

Agnew and Romney, who opposed him for the No. 2 ballot spot at the GOP National Convention earlier this month, are expected to adopt a no-hard-feelings attitude.

O'Hara Incumbent Unofficial caucuses of delegates are scheduled for tonight, with formal meetings Saturday morning before the gavel falls to open the convention at 10:30 a.m.

The GOP will name one candidate for the State Supreme Court, two for the State Board of Education and two each for the governing boards of MSU, WSU and the University of Michigan. The nominees will run in the Nov. 5 election.

The state's Democrats hold their own convention next weekend, also in Grand Rapids. They will nominate their own candidates for the court and the boards of education then.

Incumbent Justice Michael D. O'Hara, 57, of Menominee, a member of the Supreme Court since 1962, is likely to be unopposed at the GOP gathering in his bid for renomination.

Normally in election years there are two available seats on the high court, but this year the resignation of Justice Theodore Souris created a vacancy which under the state constitution will not be filled, trimming the court from eight members to seven.

Six School Posts Although justices are nominated by the political parties, they run for their eight-year terms in nonpartisan elections. The only announced Republican candidates for the two available posts on the eight-member State Board of Education, now both held by Democrats, are Mrs. Barbara Dumouchelle of Grosse Ile and James Ten Brink of Muskegon.

Former GOP State Chairman Lawrence Lindemer of Stockbridge and incumbent Regent Frederick C. Matthaei Jr. of Bloomfield Hills are seeking the two available nominations to the University of Michigan Board of Regents.

The two nominations for the MSU Board of Trustees have drawn three announced candidates — David Diehl of Dansville, Richard Ernst of Bloomfield Hills and John Pingel of Grosse Pointe.

Mahommed, which can be spelled in many ways, is the commonest name in the world.

presidium were reported ready to collaborate with the Soviet occupiers — Alois Indra, Drahomir Koldier and Vasil Bilak, chief of the Slovak Communist party.

The three were in a group of Communist leaders that talked with Soviet officers in the Praha Hotel Thursday but apparently the Soviet requirements for collaboration were so stiff that they even brought objections from some conservative leaders who had opposed some of Dubcek's policies.

There were strong suggestions that these three had issued the call for assistance that led to the lightning invasion of Czechoslovakia Tuesday night by troops of the Soviet Union, Poland, East Germany, Hungary and Bulgaria.

The Soviet Union has said the troops were called by Czechoslovak leaders to save the country from betrayers of communism — Dubcek and his supporters. But it never has named the leaders who issued the call.

A U.S. Embassy motorcade, carrying more than 400 Americans, reached the West German border Thursday after passing a Soviet roadblock outside Prague. Among those in the group was Shirley Temple Black, former child movie star.

"Czechoslovakia was such a happy country when I got there three days ago and now it is very sad, although the people have great spirit," Mrs. Black said.

Marine Donor; Outlook Dim For Pueblo Crewmen

STANFORD, Calif. (AP) — Surgeons at Stanford University Hospital transplanted the heart of a Marine into the chest of a retired Oregon postal clerk today.

The donor, Cpl. Larry B. Smith, 20, of Stockton, Calif., suffered what physicians termed irreversible brain damage in an automobile accident Aug. 14 near Stockton.

The recipient, Leonard Drake, 43, of Eugene, Ore., has suffered from a heart ailment for 12 years.

At the time of the accident, Smith was on leave from Camp Pendleton, Calif., visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith. He was to leave for Vietnam. His parents said Larry, youngest of their 12 children, had volunteered three times for combat.

Since his arrival at Stanford Hospital in June, Drake had been kept under close medical care awaiting a donor. Earlier, he had been treated at the University of Oregon Medical School.

Because of his heart illness, Drake had retired from his postal job and for the past year and a half had worked as a bailiff for the Lane County District Court in Eugene.

Drake and his wife have two children, Vicki, 11, and Jimmy, 10.

This was the 33rd heart transplant operation and 14 of the patients are still alive.

Outlook Dim For Pueblo Crewmen

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 82 officers and men of the U.S. intelligence ship Pueblo began their eighth month of imprisonment in North Korea today with the Czech crisis thought to diminish any chances of an early release.

The outlook for release of the Americans already was dimmed because of hard-line demands by the North Koreans for a formal U.S. apology for the Pueblo action in allegedly infringing on their territorial waters.

Diplomats here said the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia and the resultant strain on East-West relations hardly made it likely for a quick agreement on the Pueblo.

Pro-Moscow Premier Kim Il-Sung of North Korea, who praised the Soviet intervention of Czechoslovakia, has threatened repeatedly to try the Pueblo crew for spying, but he has set no date.

No blanket U.S. apology is in sight.

South Korea's ambassador to Washington, Kim Dong-Jo, predicted that the Soviet use of force to crush Czech liberalism

AFT Boosting Teacher Unity

CLEVELAND (AP) — Supporters of teacher power through unity with the National Education Association received a clear mandate Thursday from delegates to the American Federation of Teachers annual convention.

All 20 candidates of the federation's Progressive Caucus, which favors a merger between the AFT and the million-member NEA, were elected to office.

The elections were a setback for the NEA, a militant group which opposes any merger with the NEA. Their five candidates were all defeated, including caucus chairman Ed Simpkins of Detroit.

In presidential balloting, Progressive Caucus candidate David Selden, a 54-year-old New Yorker, won 1,320 votes, compared to 586 for NEA Caucus candidate Mrs. Zeline Richard of Detroit and 503 for Edward C. Bolstad of Minnesota, an independent. Bolstad also opposed any merger with the NEA.

Selden told a news conference after his election that he intended to spend the first months of his administration making teacher unity one of his prime targets.

He said that only when the two organizations merged would teachers have the power to call a nationwide strike if it were necessary to bring about school reforms.

Selden estimated it would take about two years to accomplish a merger if the NEA were willing to begin talks immediately. He said serious disputes had to be resolved between teachers and school boards in Philadelphia, St. Louis, and nine districts in Michigan and Southern Illinois.

Claim Air Traffic Control System Is Near Collapse

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — The entire air traffic control system in the United States "is on the verge of collapse," Herman Meyer, the new executive director of the Professional Air Traffic Controller's Organization (PATCO), said Thursday.

Meyer, speaking for the 7,300-member group, said PATCO is insisting the entire air control procedural system be rewritten and added controllers are not staging a slowdown at major airports around the country.

"While it is true a slowdown has resulted from the new safety procedures being employed by PATCO members, there likewise has not been a single mid-air collision," Meyer said during a news conference.

He said the only solution to the present air traffic crisis would be for his organization to lobby in Congress next year for legislation to provide modern equipment, updated procedures, more airports and more personnel.

"PATCO members will no longer use short cuts to expedite air traffic," he said.

Installing Window Glass Can Be A Painless Chore

By MR. FIX
Windows do break now and then. It could be due to a carelessly tossed or batted baseball, or a slingshot whose young owner didn't know it was loaded, or a wind-blown branch broken from a nearby tree in a storm.

While there are places in almost every town that will repair a broken window, they are not as accessible as they once were when every corner hardware store also handled odd jobs such as that.

You can, however, buy glass. Hardware stores, hardware departments of large stores, paint stores, almost all carry glass. And while you can, with practice, learn to cut glass yourself there is seldom any need to. Most establishments that sell glass also will cut it to size.

The important thing in installing glass is to measure properly. Measure from inside of the sash opening. Deduct 1/8 of an inch from both length and width. This will allow for the expansion and contraction of the frame with changes in the weather.

Measure more than once so that you are quite certain of the dimensions. You will have to remove all of the old glass. Wear gloves to protect your hands while you do this job. Some putty will break out in chunks. Use a knife or wood chisel on the putty that doesn't. Be careful when you cut so that you do not gouge the wood.

If the putty is stubborn, soften it with a soldering iron. Just touch the hot iron to it for a few moments.

You will notice small pieces of metal imbedded in the wood as you work. These are glazier's points and they should be removed, too. If you can't get them out with your fingers, use pliers or the edge of a putty knife.

Every tiny bit of putty, every glazier's point must be removed or the new glass will break when it is pressed into place.

With the frame clean, brush on linseed oil where you will be setting new putty. This will prevent the new putty from drying out quickly. If you use glazing compound instead, the linseed oil is not absolutely necessary but it won't hurt since it keeps the wood in good condition.

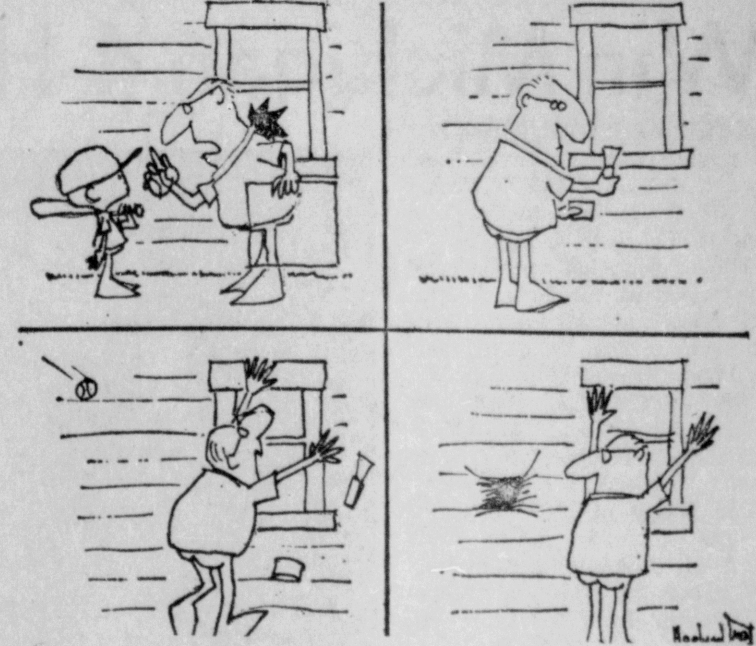

Glazing compound will last longer than putty, will not dry out.

Whichever you use, take a small handful and roll it between your hands until it is the shape of a pencil. Press this into all four channels where the new glass will go.

This layer of compound will provide a smooth bed and a tight seal for the glass. Before you put the glass in place, sight along its surface. There is a slight curve in it. The concave side (the inside of the curve) belongs on the inside of the window.

Now you will need glazier's points. If the old ones are bent or rusty, use new points. Tap them into the wood every four or five inches.

Now roll out some more putty and press it firmly into place all around the glass.

Then take a putty knife and draw its edge along the fresh putty with a firm stroke to level it. Make it look like the other windows. (Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

Items requested include communications equipment, combat uniforms, tear gas and gas masks, Mace and smoke grenades.

Allen Hits Two Homers To Give Phils Victory

By The Associated Press
Controversial Rich Allen says he would like to be traded—but he sure isn't behaving like a man who is unhappy with his present job.

For the fifth time this season, Allen slammed two homers in one game, powering Philadelphia past St. Louis' National League leaders 7-3 Thursday night.

Rich made his statement about a possible trip to the trading block after drawing fire from Phils' owner Bob Carpenter following an alleged bar-room brawl.

Allen, who has been charged with assault and battery, said he thought the "best thing for me to do is to get out of town." Carpenter said that until Allen "grows up" he is likely to become involved in more incidents, adding that he would prefer to have Allen doing his growing up in a Phils' uniform, but "anybody's dealable."

In the only other National League game, Cincinnati came from behind to edge Pittsburgh 7-5 and Dick Dietz singled in a pair of runs with two out in the ninth to give San Francisco a 3-1 victory over Los Angeles.

Allen, whose feud with Gene Mauch earlier this season was blamed for Mauch's ouster as Philadelphia manager, smacked his first homer in the third, a solo blast, in helping his team to a 4-2 lead. He followed with a 27th of the season in the eighth after Roberto Pena singled.

St. Louis grabbed an early 2-1 lead off winner Chris Short, 13-11, but the Phils retaliated with two runs in the second.

He went the distance, scattering 10 hits. "The thing that really helped me was my control," said Short. "I made only three or four pitches where I didn't want them."

Dietz' winning hit stopped a dandy pitching battle between the Giants' Gaylord Perry, 12-11, and Los Angeles' Don Sutton, 5-13.

Sutton retired the first 13 batters he faced before issuing a fifth-inning walk to Jim Hart, who scored on singles by Dietz and Jesus Alou.

Sutton finished with a four-hitter, while Perry, touched for a run in the fifth on Tom Haller's single, scattered nine hits.

The Giants loaded the bases on two walks and a fielder's choice before Dietz' heroics.

Tony Perez tripled in two runs and then scored himself on Johnny Bench's sacrifice fly to spark Cincinnati's come-from-behind rally in the seventh.

The Pirates had taken a 2-0 lead in the first and increased it to 4-0 in the second on a two-run double by Matty Alou.

Pete Rose's two-run double highlighted a four-run Reds' outburst in the bottom of the second, but Pittsburgh regained the lead in the sixth on Fred Patek's RBI single.

Redskins To Try Beban As Runner

CARLISLE, Pa. (AP) — Heisman Trophy winner Gary Beban, in danger of flopping as a pro passer, is going to get a tryout at running back for the Washington Redskins.

Coach Otto Graham said Thursday he plans to ticket the $200,000 All-America quarterback for the taxi squad if the other National Football League teams will pass him through waivers.

If they won't—as expected—and if the Redskins are forced to keep their rich rookie on the 40-man squad to avoid losing him, Graham said, "We ought to take a look at him as a runner."

Beban's value as a pro quarterback has been in question from the beginning. He was a rollout passer at UCLA, not a pro-style dropback quarterback, and his passes are prone to wobble in contrast to the classic spirals.

Graham, a former great quarterback for the Cleveland Browns, said: "This fellow has the arm—there is no question about that. It doesn't matter if the ball wobbles. I don't care about that. But we don't know if he's going to be accurate enough."

"Accuracy is the most important part of passing," Beban missed both passes he tried last week against Baltimore in his brief pro debut, delayed by the College All-Star Game. He has been less than impressive in practice and is ranked fourth on the squad behind Sonny Jurgensen, Jim Nicks and Harry Theofiles.

Beban said: "We've talked about the possibility of my being a halfback. I'd like to do anything to help the team."

The shift of a Heisman Trophy quarterback to halfback is not without precedent.

The Green Bay Packers plucked a Heisman winner off the Notre Dame campus a few years back, scrapped him as quarterback after half a season and tried him out as halfback. His name: Paul Hornung.

Pro Football Schedules 13-Game Weekend Slate

By The Associated Press
Preseason professional football—those no-count games that lead to do-count injuries, roster cuts and the loss of jobs by veterans to newcomers—launches another busy weekend tonight.

Of the five games, two are interleague skirmishes. They sent the New York Jets of the American Football League against the Atlanta Falcons of the National Football League at Birmingham, Ala., and the NFL San Francisco 49ers against the AFL Broncos at Denver.

Boston plays Miami at Jacksonville, Fla., and Buffalo meets Houston at Tulsa, Okla., in AFL action while Baltimore is at Detroit in an NFL contest.

The five contests are part of a 13-game weekend schedule, highlighted by Saturday night's NFL Green Bay at Dallas game, which will be nationally televised.

The Jets said Thursday that quarterback Joe Namath is expected to play against the Falcons. The former Alabama star, troubled by a sore left knee, missed the first two exhibition games, which the Jets split.

Injuries will keep tight end Pete Lammons, flanker Don Maynard and center John Schmitt out of the Jets' lineup.

Ron VanderKelen, No. 2 quarterback behind Randy Johnson, is expected to start for the Falcons, who have lost their first two games.

In the other interleague game—the AFL leads the NFL 7-4—San Francisco will be looking for its first victory under new coach Dick Nolan. The 49ers lost their first three games.

John Brodie is slated to start at quarterback.

End Sonny Randle and tackle Len Rohde are expected to return to action for Denver, 1-1, after recovering from injuries.

Unbeaten Houston, which won three games in the Astro dome, will try to keep its streak intact with a victory over Buffalo outdoors at Tulsa. Quarterback Pete Beathard once again will be at the controls for the Oilers.

Veteran quarterback Jack Kemp suffered a charley horse in Buffalo's victory over Cincinnati and is listed as a doubtful starter for the Bills, 2-0-1. Dan Darragh is Kemp's backup man.

Fullback Jim Nance, the AFL's leading rusher the past two seasons, will be surrounded by quarterback Mike Taliaferro and rookies Aaron Marsh at flanker and R.C. Gamble at halfback as Boston tries to make Miami its first victim after two losses.

Boston's only touchdown in those losses was scored by the defense.

Rookie quarterback Kim Hammond is scheduled to start and play three quarters, with Bob Griese finishing up, for the Dolphins. They have won one and tied one.

Veteran Johnny Unitas and young Terry Southall will split the quarterbacking for Baltimore, 3-0, against Detroit, which will try to improve its 1-1 mark behind quarterback Bill Munson. It will be Munson's first appearance since leg surgery.

Beside the Green Bay-Dallas game, Saturday's schedule has Philadelphia at Minnesota, Cleveland at New Orleans and Chicago against Washington at Chicago.

Atlanta, N.C., in NFL games; Oakland at Kansas City in an AFL encounter, and Los Angeles of the NFL at San Diego of AFL.

St. Louis and New York of the NFL play at New Haven, Conn., and Pittsburgh of the NFL meets Cincinnati of the AFL at Morgantown, W. Va., Sunday.

McAuliffe Strikes Blow For Terrified Batsmen

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit catcher Bill Freehan, hit 19 times by pitched balls this year, takes a philosophical approach to baseball's beanball problem.

"They ought to stop it before somebody gets hurt," says Freehan.

Somebody did get hurt Thursday night, but it was a pitcher. Striking the blow for terrified batsmen everywhere was Dick McAuliffe, the intense second baseman of the Detroit Tigers.

With Detroit leading 1-0 in the third inning, McAuliffe ducked away from a high inside 3-2 fastball thrown by southpaw Tommy John.

On the way to first base, McAuliffe exchanged words with John. Then he broke for the mound. Both men slammed into each other as players from both benches surged onto the field.

When the dust had cleared, John left the field gripping his left shoulder in pain. Umpire Al Salerno ejected both players and the game continued. Detroit won 4-2 on consecutive homers by Al Kaline and Willie Horton in the sixth inning.

John suffered torn ligaments in his pitching shoulder and Dr. Russell Wright, Detroit team physician, said he will be out from 10 days to three weeks, depending on further analysis.

"If they're all wound up as tight as that guy (McAuliffe), they're in trouble," observed Les Moss, acting manager of the Sox. "That's a joke to charge the mound on a 3-2 pitch leading off an inning. Who's going to throw at the leadoff man?"

John, his left shoulder wrapped in tape and an ice pack, was even more astonished.

"Anyone thinks I'm going to throw at them on a 3-2 pitch leading 1-0 in this ballpark must be stupid," said John apparently confused over which team was leading at the time of the incident.

McAuliffe, just recovered from an upset stomach, did not agree.

"He threw three pitches close to my head," he said. "I know damn well he doesn't pitch me up that close. I told Salerno that the second pitch would have killed me if it hit me.

"The White Sox have been throwing at us for two years," he added. "I don't want to be a guinea pig. A guy can be hurt for life."

The two players grappled at the mound until separated.

"He didn't land a punch and I didn't, either," said John. "He hit me in the shoulder with his knee. I had pain shooting from my shoulder up to my neck."

McAuliffe, who was not injured, said: "I don't remember what was said. I heard curse words and then I didn't hear anything."

Falcons Claim Vikings O'Hara

MANKATO, Minn. (AP) — A Minnesota Viking bid to obtain wide receiver Rich O'Hara from the Baltimore Colts fell through Thursday. O'Hara will go to the Atlanta Falcons on waiver.

A Viking spokesman said the Minnesota NFL club had offered Baltimore a draft choice for O'Hara and the Colts had accepted. But Baltimore neglected to recall waivers on O'Hara and Atlanta, first among three to claim him, got O'Hara for the waiver price.

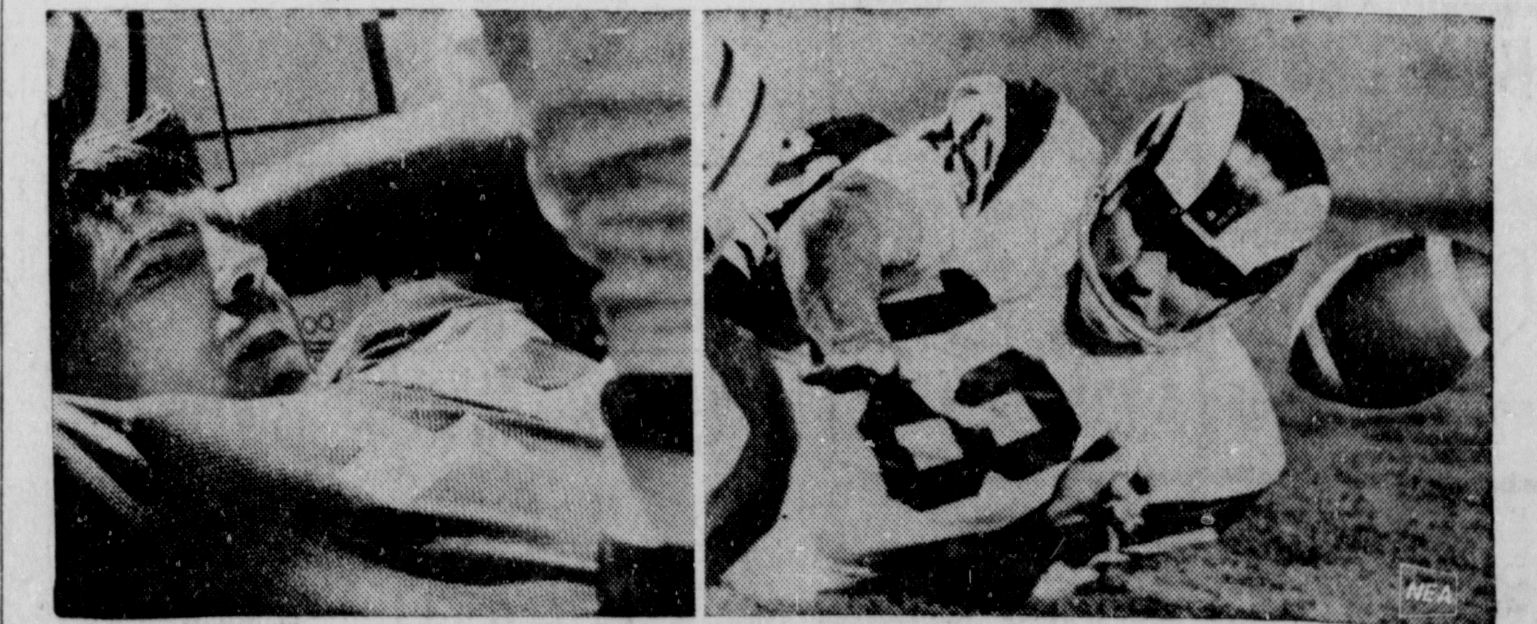

The waiver period expired Wednesday.

Dierking Signs Royals Contract

CINCINNATI (AP) — Connie Dierking, the Cincinnati Royals' comeback player of the year last season, has signed a contract for 1968-69 with the National Basketball Association team.

Dierking, a 6-foot-10 center, enjoyed his finest season ever last year as he averaged 16.4 points a game and nearly 10 rebounds a game.

NFL statistics show that 125-130 plays, exclusive of kickoffs and extra points, are run off in a game.

QUARTERBACKS SPEND much of their time on the ground, particularly in preseason games. The Rams' Roman Gabriel (right) was knocked to the turf and lost the ball in this exhibition action but was more fortunate than the Eagles' Norm Snead (left) who suffered a fractured ankle on his very first play of the 1968 season.

Highland To Open 18-Hole Course

Long Time Dream Becomes Reality

Delta County's first 18-hole golf course will become a reality Saturday at 1 p.m. when President Hazen Hengesh cuts the ribbon to begin play on the new Highland Golf Course. Hengesh is celebrating his 25th year as club prexy.

Another veteran club officer, Einar Beck, secretary-treasurer for 18 years, will shoot the first ball off the Number 1 tee.

The board of directors will be on hand to begin play Saturday and all other members and friends who wish to play the new course are also invited. The course will be open to both men and women Saturday.

The opening of the 18-hole course climaxes a dream that was formulated after the destruction of the former clubhouse in a fire on November 9, 1960. Immediately following the disaster, the board of directors met to make plans for a new clubhouse. It was decided at this time that as long as the club was going into debt for the construction of the new clubhouse, they might just as well lay plans for an 18-hole course at the same time.

The purchase of additional land was acted upon and the club practically doubled in real estate just a few years later. Irrigation work was done on the present course and primary work was begun on the new nine. Fairways were prepared and greens were constructed on the course in the fall of 1966 and the spring of 1967.

The course has been in construction for the past two years and it was expected to be ready for play the middle of this season. However, the unusual amount of rain this summer has prevented proper grooming, so it was necessary to postpone the opening until this time.

Club officials stated that the new course still has some work to be done on traps and other parts, but that the pressure that is exerted by the heavy turnout of golfers for the men's club tournament make it imperative to open at this time. Although two of the fairways are coming slow, the remainder of the course is excellent. The greens have progressed far beyond expectation and could have been played all summer.

The new course will feature thirteen new tees and ten new greens. All the greens have been sparsely designed and will challenge even the finest putters. The greens also have perimeter sprinkling systems and some of the fairways are also watered.

Other features of the new course include a double tee on holes 2 and 8 and Number 7 will be trapped by a shallow pond. Many trees have already been planted and more will grace the course this coming fall and spring.

The front nine measures 3074 yards and is a par 35, while the back nine is 3131 yards and a par 36. Following is a hole by hole description of the course as it will be played:

No. 1 - the present Number 1 hole measuring 374 yards.

No. 2 - the first hole on the new course, a 360-yard hole from a double tee to a green that is hidden behind a slight hill.

No. 3 - a 560-yard hole along the southern boundary of the course and is a par 5.

No. 4 - a rather long 195-yard par 3 hole to a trapped green.

No. 5 - a 350-yard par 4 hole to a heavily trapped green.

No. 6 - a challenging 530-yard hole with a slight dogleg to the left.

No. 7 - a 175-yard par 3 hole to a spacious green trapped to the left front by a shallow pond.

No. 8 - returns to the old course, but from a new tee presenting a 170-yard hole across the creek.

No. 9 - returns to the clubhouse and is the present Number 3 hole measuring 360 yards.

No. 10 - will utilize the present Number 4 green, but will be from a new tee in front of the present Number 9 green.

No. 11 - the present Number 5 hole with a dogleg to the right.

No. 12 - the present Number 6 hole measuring 291 yards and is a par 4.

No. 13 - again moves on to the new course and is a 505-yard hole to a heavily trapped green.

No. 14 - a par 3, 152-yard hole.

No. 15 - a par 4, 400-yard hole with a dogleg to the left.

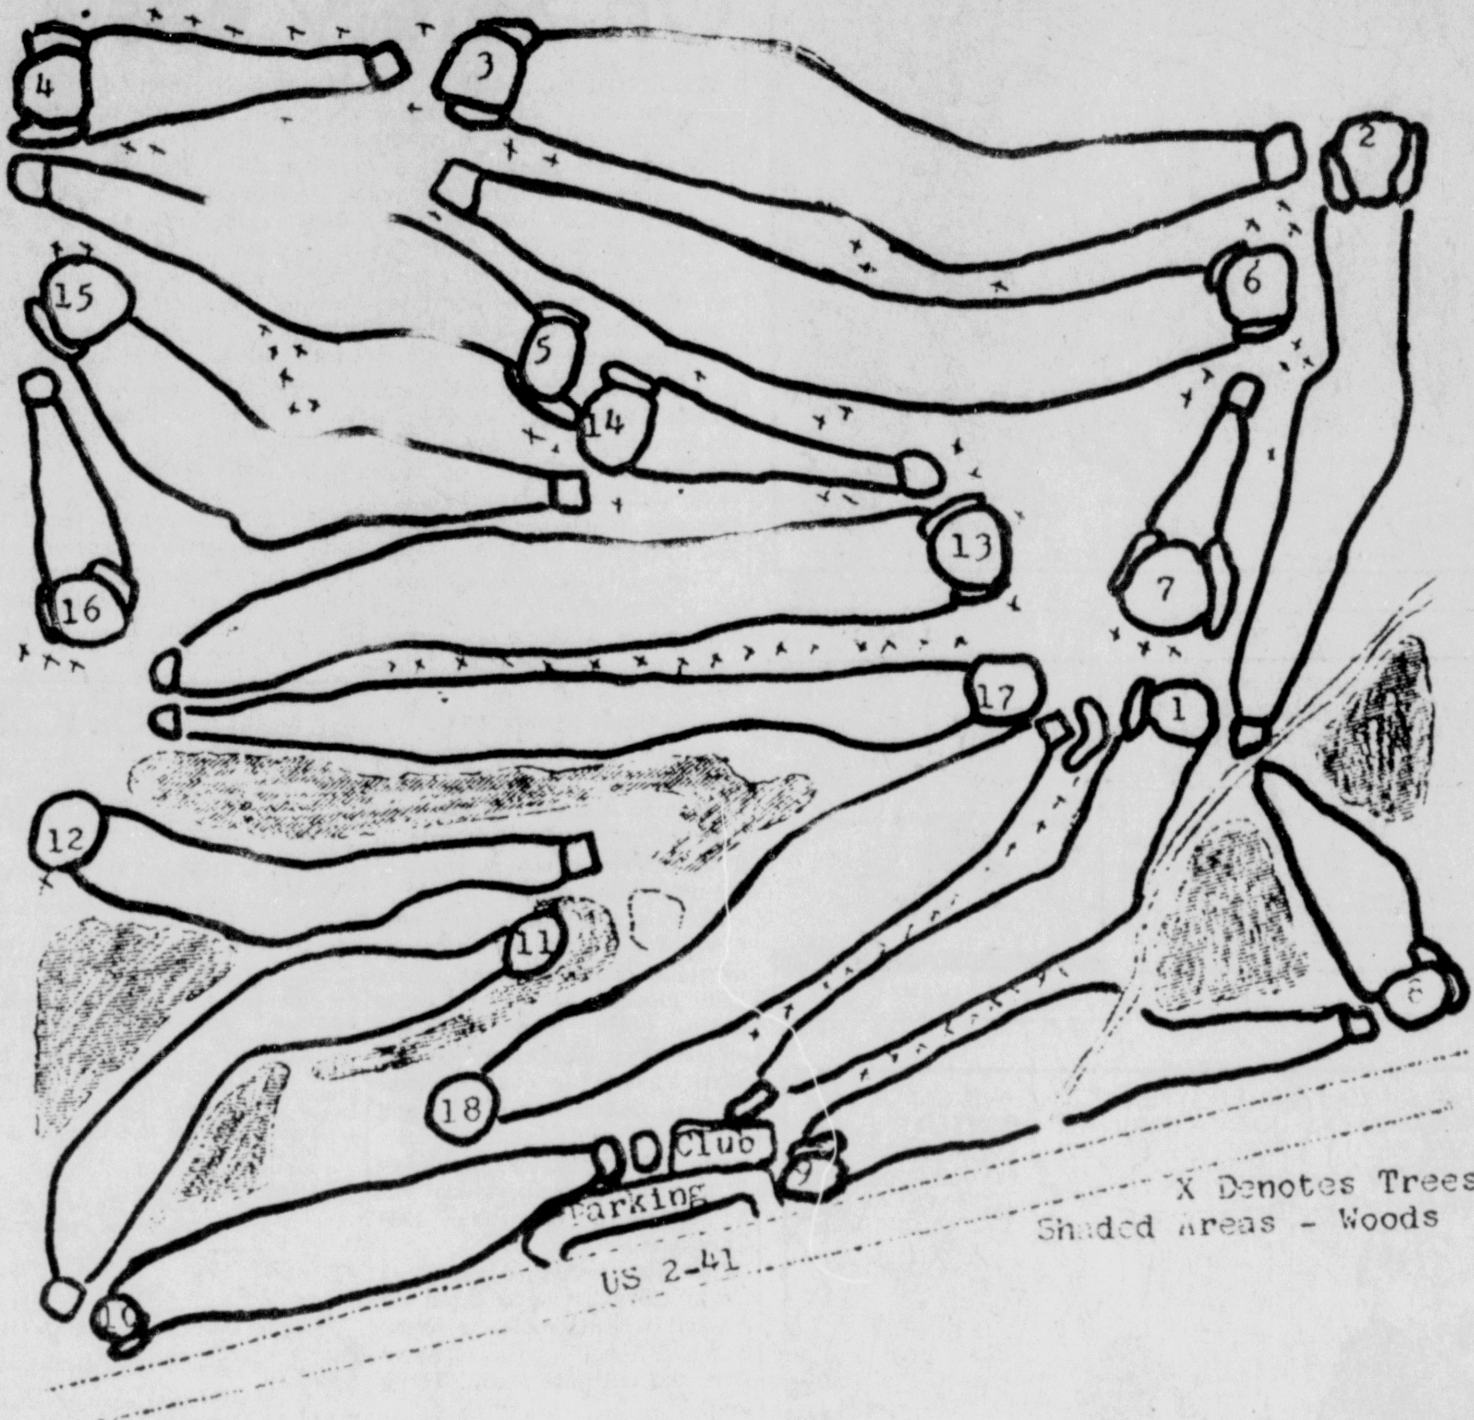

No. 16 - a par 3, 140-yard hole to a steeply pitched green.

No. 17 - returns to the present course, is 515-yards long on the present Number 7 hole, but again from a new tee.

No. 18 - returns to the clubhouse from the present Number 8 hole which is 405-yards long and is also on a new green.

Downing Returns To Mayo Clinic

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP)—Al Downing, the New York Yankee southpaw pitcher, returned to Mayo Clinic Thursday for tests and observation. Doctors at the Rochester, Minn., institution are trying to find a cure for his abnormal sleeping habits.

The 27-year-old pitcher has an unusual combination of narcolepsy and insomnia. He doesn't sleep well at night but dozes off at frequent intervals in the daytime.

They will try to regulate his sleeping and waking hours. Downing was to remain in the hospital overnight and rejoin the team in New York Friday night.

He is slated to pitch against the Detroit Tigers Sunday.

Green Homers For A's; Mantle Hits Milestone

By The Associated Press Second baseman Dick Green of Oakland discovered that it doesn't take a big swing to hit a home run.

He shortened his swing and hit a ninth-inning homer that gave the Athletics a 2-1 victory over the California Angels Thursday night.

"I wasn't seeing the ball well. I was pulling my head away from the plate," Green explained.

"I came out early for batting practice and took about 10 cuts with the shortened swing. I hit the ball so well that I quit," he said.

Green saved one short swing for the game. His homer came off Angel rookie southpaw Dennis Bennett, 0-1, with one out in the final frame.

The homer made a winner of pitcher Jim "Catfish" Hunter for the 10th time this season. The only run Hunter allowed was an error by Bert Campaneris.

Campaneris made up for his bad throw with a perfect squeeze bunt that scored the first Oakland run in the next inning.

In other games, Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees whacked his 534th career homer, tying him for third place with Jimmy Foxx on the all-time list, as the Yanks dropped

Lolich Triumphs Over White Sox

DETROIT (AP)—Mickey Lolich, moving back into the starting rotation after a month's exile in the bullpen, picked up his 12th victory Thursday night with some clutch relief help from Don McMahon as the Detroit Tigers knocked off the Chicago White Sox 4-2.

The game featured a fight between Detroit's Dick McAuliffe and Chicago starter Tommy John. Both players were ejected. John suffered a shoulder injury.

The victory, Detroit's 10th in its last 13 games, moved the Tigers 7½ games ahead of the idle Baltimore Orioles in the American League pennant race.

The Bengals move into New York tonight for a weekend series with the Yankees. Earl Wilson will pitch for Detroit.

"Mickey just ran out of gas," said Detroit Manager Mayo Smith, when asked why he lifted ed the left-hander. "He didn't even have a tire left in his tank."

Lolich pitched seven innings, holding the Sox to four hits, including a two-run homer by Tommy Davis in the fourth which put Chicago ahead 2-1.

McMahon came on in the eighth and loaded the bases with two out on singles by Luis Aparicio and Sandy Alomar, plus a walk to Tommie McCraw.

Smith went to the mound to discuss pitching to Davis but stuck with the 38-year-old veteran relief pitcher, who got Davis on an infield grounder.

"I wasn't going to pull him," said Smith. "He's been through all this before. He's got a big heart."

Detroit took the lead for good when Al Kaline and Willie Horton hit consecutive homers off former Tiger Dennis Ribant in the sixth.

Smith, who says "put me down as bland," said he doesn't lose his temper very often. "But after two innings and no runs off Ribant, I got mad."

"I walked up and down the bench and told them 'if you let this guy beat you, you ought to give up,'" said Smith. "I've got nothing against Ribant but he's got no stuff. Then Kaline goes up and pops one and Willie lets fly."

The Tigers took a 1-0 lead in the first on singles by McAuliffe, Kaline and Horton and added a final run in the seventh off Hoyt Wilhelm on an infield hit by Lolich, a passed ball and Mickey Stanley's single.

World's Finest Bourbon a 173-Year-Old Secret

CHICAGO, ILL.—Before you can call yourself the world's finest anything—you'd better have a case in your favor.

Jim Beam Bourbon has that "case."

The whole matter started with Jacob Beam—who would be 200 years old this year—and a secret he discovered.

The secret, in the case of Jim Beam Bourbon, goes back to 1795, and it is still hush-hush today. The secret lay in the heart of Kentucky where there was, and is today, the right combination for pleasure. The right land. The right climate: the perfect Bourbon formula.

In north central Kentucky, Jacob Beam found clean iron-free water—water that came from limestone springs considered the very finest. Beam set out to make Bourbon in the rolling country, and he added his own special ingredients.

Six generations of distillers through six generations of Bourbon nature and taste.

The price is right. Every glass of Bourbon has its own special character.

Booker Noe—over a span of 173 years.

And it's still a big secret.

All those Beams have rested their case on that's worthy of the best.

The quality of the Jim Beam Bourbon today owes much to the preservation and a commitment to the original form.

Car Firms Move To Competition On Safety Basis

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The auto industry, which was in deadly fear of federal safety standards less than two years ago, apparently has learned they are not so bad, after all.

That was the word Thursday from some of Chrysler Corp.'s top safety people during interviews at the firm's national 1969 car press preview.

"I said two years ago I was hopeful we could develop a workmanlike relationship with Washington officials on this safety bit, and it happened just that way," said Lynn A. Townsend, Chrysler board chairman.

Townsend described himself as "a complete optimist on this question of working out agreements with federal officials on safety problems."

Outdo Standards

Sydney L. Terry, Chrysler president of engineering, said U. S. auto makers had not only met federal safety standards to date, but were out in front of them on some points.

He cited General Motors' new heavy steel bars concealed inside the doors of many of its 1969 models as a protection against side impact; Ford's antiskidding brake device offered as optional equipment on its top priced 1969 cars, and Chrysler's own auxiliary low-beam lighting editor, practically a third headlight, which will be available on some 1969 Chryslers.

"We are proud of the steps we at Chrysler have taken on station wagon roofs to keep exhaust fumes and dirt away from the tail gate area," Terry said.

Becomes Selling Point

Terry and Roy C. Haessler, Chrysler's chief engineer for automotive safety, predicted the auto industry may be in the early stages of an all-out tussle to outdo each other in new safety features.

"If safety ever gets to be a selling point with the public, and it looks like it's getting there, the battle will be on," Haessler said. He pointed to the ever increasing number of safety items, both standard and optional equipment, which are available on various companies' lines and said it was apparent that safety would be a big selling item from here on in the industry.

Haessler and Terry, in a joint interview, deplored the fact that so many people spend money for safety devices such as seat belts and shoulder harnesses and then remove them from their cars.

To Reduce Whiplash

Haessler said, "it is too bad that more of the people who have identified themselves with the cause of automotive safety do not push harder to get people

Youth Beat Reports

Cycle Laws Toughened

"Peacock Revolution" Underway: Researchers confirm fact that the day of clean-shaven guys with closely cropped hair is gone, gone, gone. Motivation gurus claim U.S. male is adopting a more playful attitude toward his entire appearance. Say ad copywriters must conform or lose important "think ahead" feel to their copy. Judging by the extent of the "non-conformity" rush of the American male, the real forward copy kings will be featuring waxed and polished skulls. The rush for a hairy future has gone ape!

TOUGHER CYCLE LAWS: National Safety Council reports drop in motorcycle fatalities—2,000 vs. 2,050 last year. Decline is significant in view of great rise in registrations in year's time. New death rate is 22 per cent below 1966 rate. Officials say flood of new safety laws (adopted by 32 states) is the answer. Future efforts aimed at requiring driver's tests will be important to keeping the statistics headed up the right road.

DANGER SIGNALS: In seeking a use car teens are advised to pass up that car with the unexplained holes in body panels where accessories were once attached. Why? These cars are obviously part of a fleet of old taxis or police vehicles. A number of unscrupulous used-car dealers have tried to palm them off as ordinary used cars.

Sex Choice: Teens take note — By 1975 some scientists believe you'll be able to choose whether you want a boy or girl baby! That could lead to an overabundance of sister trios in show biz or professional family basketball teams (male)—providing you and your spouse are tall!

SCHOOLS GET SMART: At last a school system is coming to grips with reality. A New York City school will teach all subjects in both Spanish and English for those who speak Spanish at home. Test studies showed that students taught thusly received far better grades than their counterparts who took the classes in English only. Also discovered was that the formers English was in no way hurt.

SLEEP NEWS: Dr. Nathaniel Kleitman at the University of Chicago, who has done much sleep research, reported that a subject who was deprived of sleep up to 60 hours often went "temporarily insane." So sleep a little!

PARENTS' CHOICE: If teens think parents push them into one or another way of life now, wait 'til their children are ready to become parents! Sometime after the year 2000, parents will be able to select from a germ-cell bank those qualities they want their children to possess. We can see it all now: "What! You want to be an artist? When I chose intellect, perseverance, supreme hand-to-eye-co-ordination, and moral courage for you I meant those characteristics to help you be a famous surgeon!"

A Need To Be Filled: Teens are sick, sick, sick of auto mechanics who get hold of their cars and pocketbooks. Often the actual cost outdistances the estimates by 20 or 30 dollars; work is shoddy, parts second-hand, tires and brakes unsafe. Teens are calling for a strict test for auto mechanics before they get a license, as well as a way to guarantee work.

Americans in Paris . . . Madrid, and Mainz: Want to study abroad and get 12 college credits and take courses you would take in a stateside college? Then try Oakland University's study abroad plan. It costs only $500 more per semester than room, board and tuition on the American O.U. campus. One can take history, philosophy and aesthetics from regular Oakland University professors. The combination of practical U.S. college classes in a foreign country is unbeatable — so unbeatable that they're doing it again and again.

MONEY MANAGEMENT A TEEN HANGUP: College level specialists in home management act surprised! Divide teens into three groups: (1) treaters, (2) hoarders and (3) spenders. Fact: Teens fall into the same category as adults on matters of money. Both young and old need "guidance" on how to earn it and how to spend it. Pretty fundamental to education generally!

TV 'Sleepers' Prove Durable

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — While a few television newcomers are attracting the lion's share of pre-season attention, some others are being almost snubbed. Historically, however, some of the "sleepers" and shows given little chance have proved to be among the industry's most durable commodities.

"The Beverly Hillbillies," for instance, was not enthusiastically received when it started—seven years ago. "Peyton Place" started with critical groans—five years ago. "The Flying Nun" arrived last season when the wise ones declared that fantasy was dead. All, however, are back and healthy.

Some new shows will slip into the TV channels next month with comparatively little splash, too. One to keep an eye on is a CBS half-hour show called "Two Good Guys."

For one thing, it stars Bob Denver, a lanky, casual comedy actor who looks younger than his 33 years and has never been caught in a television trap. An elementary grades teacher with an interest in acting, Denver made the TV big time with his third professional role—Maynard G. Krebs, the bearded hippie in "Dobie Gillis" that ran for all those CBS seasons. When that cracked to a halt, Denver immediately popped up as Gilligan in "Gilligan's Island," a kookie series that was denounced by everyone except a large and adoring audience.

Denver, come to think of it, has never been critically acclaimed and his "Gilligan's Island" replaced "Beverly Hillbillies" as the example most often used when high-brow critics wanted to show the intellectual level of television entertainment. It went on and on. However, it lasted for several seasons: Denver and company made people laugh.

Now, co-starred with another funny fellow, Herb Edelman, Denver will continue playing Denver, this time as a cab driver full of money-making schemes that, of course, misfire.

A Biblical zoo, containing many of the animals mentioned in the Bible, is located in Jerusalem.

Enjoyed Hospital; First In 111 Years

PORT HURON (P)—"I still feel pretty good," insists 111-year-old William C. "Gip" Vertican, despite a recent bout with pneumonia and the only visit to a hospital he has ever made.

Vertican celebrated his 111th birthday Wednesday with a cake-and-ice cream family gathering that also celebrated the 12th birthday of a nephew.

Vertican and his wife Dora, who died in 1932, had three sons and two daughters. There are 16 grandchildren, five great-grandchildren and three great-great-grandchildren.

Until this summer, Gip had never been to a hospital, and hadn't put much stock in doctors. But he approved of the pneumonia treatment in Port Huron Hospital and came out saying:

"The nurses couldn't be better."

Hopped Trains

Years ago it was Gip Vertican's boast that he never drove a car or rode a bicycle in his life. "I walked or hopped a freight," said the former Great Lakes sailor and Pinkerton railroad detective.

That boast clearly rings of a different day, but Gip Vertican has lived through many changes.

When he was born, on Aug. 21, 1857, in Harrisburg, Pa., Andrew Johnson had become 10th president defeating Republican John C. Fremont and Millard Fillmore who ran on the Know-Nothing ticket.

There have been 26 presidents in Vertican's lifetime.

The year he was born, Kansas settlers sought to adopt a pro-slavery state constitution but it was rejected by the U. S. Congress.

Minnesota was admitted to the union in 1858, the year he celebrated his first birthday.

Gip Vertican's personal history was a lively one. He lost the sight of one eye while defending a Pennsylvania Railroad payroll during an attempted train robbery.

Sailed On Lakes

That occurred some time around the turn of the century. "I wasn't here yet," said Mrs. Zeller, his daughter. "I'm 60 so you can figure that out."

Later Vertican sailed through the Great Lakes for the Great Lakes Towing Co., and worked for the Bob Thompson Tugging Co. of Port Huron.

After retiring at 80 he continued to maintain that the essentials of a long and happy life are three meals a day and hard physical work.

He practiced that formula at other times by working as a coal miner in Pennsylvania, for the old Detroit Edison Gas Co., and on a construction crew in the St. Clair River Tunnel from Port Huron to Sarnia, Ont.

Gip finally gave up cigars and an occasional drink when he was 101.

It is about 35 degrees colder at the South Pole than at the North Pole.
